STIELER NOT PRESIDENT.

Fred Ewel Is Present Head of Mannerchor.

April 28, 1919.

Editor-Freeman:

In your paper of April 26 (Saturday), I found an announcement that Mr. Stieler, the North Front street restaurant man, who was interned during the war for talking German propaganda, has been released and returned to Kingston.

Also you state that Mr. Stieler is president of the Rondout Social Mannerchor, which is an error. I hope you will be so kind and correct this in your next issue for the benefit of said society. President of the Rondout Social Mannerchor is Fred Ewel.

Thanking you in advance.

BYRD NOT DRUNK AT ROBERTS' PLACE

According to Testimony of Delaware Avenue Saloonkeeper—Trolley Men Who Carried Three Negroes Testify In Murder Case.

When the trial of the negro, Byrd, for the murder of Police Officer Lawrence was resumed before Judge Fowler in county court this morning, James Bailey was re-called by District Attorney Traver for re-direct examination. Testified that he was asleep part of the time while on the tram coming to Kingston. Questioned as to his testimony Monday about passing city hall with Cunningham before stopping at grocery on way to depot. Told about having first knowledge that Lawrence had been stabbed and was dead. Some one told Byrd in jail but thought he could not recognize him now, being a stranger. Talked with Chief Wood after he was put in jail. Talked with district attorney on day he went before grand jury in district attorney's office. Asked if he stated before grand jury about going into Colburn's store the same as he did yesterday, also about bottle of whiskey. Admitted that he and Cunningham told the same stories to district attorney last Wednesday. Asked if told what paper meant he signed. Said he did not remember. Never saw Byrd have a knife. Wore a soft hat and overcoat. To Mr. Grogan said this man took trolley car from Murray street to West Shore station and a taxicab from there to court house. Heard the shots fired while in the store and went to depot. Didn't know Lawrence was stabbed until told in jail Saturday he was dead. Same man told him. To District Attorney Traver testified to being in his office; asked if he had a place and said he had. This morning you told me to tell the truth. Went before the grand jury and was discharged; nobody promised him to go against Byrd. Bailey was asked to step down, the court being told by District Attorney Traver that he may be recalled.

Louis Roberts, 144 Delaware avenue, testified he was a saloonkeeper. Since grand jury Mr. O'Reilly had talked to him and said O'Reilly asked him if Byrd had been drinking but was not intoxicated. Testified about Byrd, Cunningham and Bailey being in his place and shooting pool about an hour. Each had a glass of beer when they came in and a glass of whiskey going out. One seemed dopy but they walked straight and saw them get on car. They did not ask him about any place to sleep. To Mr. Grogan, said O'Reilly called him on phone after the grand jury had indicted Byrd, to come to his house that he was ill. That he told Mr. O'Reilly practically the same story about the men that he had testified to the district attorney. Quite sure no other colored people were there that day, but there might have been others. That way no different than other days as people come in and go out. Insisted men had only two drinks in his place. Did not tell anyone about where to find lodging house.

Frank Rist, cigarmaker, of 25 Park street, was called and testified he was qualifying as a conductor on the Colonial trolley line. Was on a car on night of February 6th, car leaving Kingston Point Park at 7:15 o'clock, and three colored men got on and said to the best of his knowledge three colored men. Byrd, Bailey and Cunningham got on the car. Related conversation he had with Cunningham about finding a place to stay over night; that Dude Roberts had told him (Cunningham) that he could find a lodging house on Hanratty street. Surrogate Gill got on the car at Ponckhockie switch. Time of making trip uptown was given.

August Bopp, residing at 77 Broadway, testified he was motorman on the trolley car night of February 6th. Told of the 7:15 trip and of three colored men getting on car. Got into car at power house switch saw three colored men and Surrogate Gill got on. The colored men did not appear to be drunk. Men got out at Murray street. Would not say they had not been drinking.

Surrogate Gill was then called. He testified that he had observed the three negroes as he entered the car and they were conversing. He got off the car at Hasbrouck avenue and Strand. He did not think that the three negroes were intoxicated. His observation of them at that time did not warrant an identification in court today.

Lewis Otto, whose mother conducts a store at 512 Delaware avenue, testified that on the night of the stabbing he was tending the store and about 7:30 o'clock three negroes entered and bought some bread and salmon and he opened the can for them and then gave them a bread knife to slice the bread with but he did not see them use the knife. They remained in the store about 15 minutes and took their purchases with them. They had been drinking but did not act or appear to be drunk.

Thomas Enright of 119 Newkirk avenue was sworn and stated that he was in the Otto store when three negroes entered. He identified Byrd as on of the trio. He remembers Otto going for the bread knife but did not see it used by anyone there. They were not drunk in the witness's estimation.

Patrick MacDonough of 14 Second avenue, who was a witness before the grand jury in the case, stated that when he entered the

RED CROSS SEWING

House Cleaning Should Not Interfere With Work.

While there are a number of loyal and patriotic women doing their share in the Red Cross sewing now being done either at the Headquarters on Broadway or at the D. A. R. Chapter House, uptown, the work would go along much faster if there were many more workers at both places. And those working could do their part much more comfortably if they had enough comrades in arms, so to speak, to assure them that the full quota assigned to both places would be well out of the way before the expiration of the time set for its accomplishment. Of course the present excuse for not giving an hour or two or more to this work so much needed right now, is that it is house-cleaning time. True, it is. But how about the women and children for whom this sewing is being done and who need the garments, and moreover have no houses, worthy the name to clean? How many of our women realize what it would mean to be in the predicament where house-cleaning was an impossibility because they had no house, no home to clean? How about it, Kingston women?

"Antlers" Damaged by Fire.

ST. PETER'S AID GOLDEN JUBILEE

Observed with Communion and Mass on Sunday and Closed Monday Night With Banquet and Addresses—Society 50 Years Young.

Sunday and Monday St. Peter's Sick and Society of St. Peter's Church celebrated its 50th anniversary with a golden jubilee, the celebration being brought to a close Monday evening with a banquet in St. Peter's school hall on Adams street.

Sunday morning the society in a body attended the 7 o'clock mass in the church, where they received Holy Communion, and then proceeded to the school hall where they were served with breakfast.

At the solemn high mass at 10:30 o'clock in the church, the society again attended in a body. The Rev. Henry Young, C. SS. R., of St. Alphonso Seminary, Esopus, was celebrant of the high mass, the deacon was the Rev. John P. Neumann, pastor of the church, and the sub-deacon was the Rev. John C. DeKrom, chaplain of the Benedictine Sanitarium.

Father Neumann in his address, expressed his joy in seeing so many members present and congratulated the society on the occasion of its golden jubilee. Fifty years had passed, he said, since the founders and pillars of St. Peter's Church undertook to organize a society which had for its object the true Christian spirit—the spirit of charity—an organization which was to render assistance in the hour of need to the afflicted and comfort to the bereaved at the time of death. He recalled the many good works the society had done during that time, and although the charter members were now all dead, the society continues to exist and carries on the good work which the founders had begun. It was a society of which both the church and community could feel justly proud. He then spoke on and emphasized in three points the duties of a Christian man. The first was in the home and family. There the good example should be shown and taught to the children and Christian virtues practiced by all the members.

Next was the workshop, where the man was exposed to so many dangers by coming in contact with associates and companions of all kinds. He admonished the members of the society to refrain from scandalous conversations, cursing and swearing and to lead a life which would shine before men as examples of good Christians. Lastly he reminded them of their duties toward their church and urged them to fulfill their obligations in this respect faithfully and earnestly. If they observed these three points they would be sure to lead lives to which all men would look to as a good example to follow and a life which would be sure to bring them everlasting glory and joy in heaven. In closing he thanked the members for their loyal support given him whenever called upon and of the good will that existed and hoped the same would continue.

The golden jubilee services were brought to a successful conclusion Monday evening with a banquet in St. Peter's school hall on Adams street.

The closing session was attended by a large number of the members and their families. President Peter Brunk presided and a fine banquet was served.

Mayor Canfield, one of the guests of honor, delivered an impressive address, praising the work accomplished by the society during the past fifty years. The Rev. John P. Neumann, pastor of St. Peter's Church, also spoke, and gave high praise to the good work the society had accomplished in the parish during the years it had been in existence.

Other speakers were Charles Kotz, president of the D. R. Staats-Verband of Brooklyn, and former Senator Jacob Rice.

C. J. Hartman, recording secretary, gave a brief history of the organization. He said:

Comparatively few there are I dare say in this community, outside of St. Peter's parish, who are aware that this organization exists, and I venture a guess that even His Honor the Mayor did not know that we were doing business here until within the last year or so when our name appeared among the list of marchers in our recent parades. But I tell you we have been more than existing; we have been and are a vital factor in the lives of hundreds of families of this parish, and today, on this, our 50th birthday, we are going to review and with just pride the history of our accomplishments.

No other society has more cause to be thankful than ours, and this is said reverently, in no spirit of boastfulness in our own strength, but with gratitude to the Giver of Good who has blessed us with the conditions which have enabled us to achieve so large a measure of well being and happiness. As I progress you will understand what I mean. I ask you to bear with me because I have to deal largely with statistics and figures are such dry things. But I promise to make them as interesting as possible. It is my purpose also to deal with the history of the society, its past achievements, and to mention some of the men who have helped to make possible those achievements. I obtained most of the facts (upon which my talk is based) from our but recently deceased friend and brother member, John Reis, a man whom we all loved and one whom we shall greatly miss, a man who was, so to speak, a balance wheel in all of our deliberations, and one well qualified to speak about the society's past by virtue of his having been one of its charter members.

A group of men, 29 in number, men who were hard working and thrifty individuals, men with foresight enough to know and to see that unless provision was made by them for the proverbial rainy day, want and destitution was likely to be their portion; these 29 men came together and formulated plans for the organization that is today fifty years old. And because these 29 prudent men were wise enough in their age and generation to establish this bulwark of financial assistance, hundreds of families of St. Peter's parish have had sunshine and happiness brought into their gloomy, sorrowing homes.

The membership in this organization has never exceeded 200, and was for many years less than 50. That number is indeed small when compared with the large sums of money that the society has spent during the fifty years of its existence; money expended not only in looking after the financial welfare of the individual members and their families in time of need but likewise in assuming a large share of the financial burdens of St. Peter's parish.

The most important phase of our work naturally has had to do with sick and death benefits and donations to our members. In the 50 years of our existence we have paid out, in round numbers, the following:

For sick benefits, $29,000.

For death benefits, $32,000.

For donations to members, $5,000.

Besides this we have made the following benefactions:

$2,000 to St. Peter's Church.

$1,500 towards the construction of this school building.

$300 in the purchase of a memorial window for our church.

$200 toward the construction of a wall around the old school building.

$200 toward the purchase of a new bell for the church.

$125 for a new cross and painting the steeple of the church.

$100 gift to the Rev. Father Sieglack to take a trip to Germany.

$100 to the Rev. Father Kuhnen for the same purpose.

$100 present to the Rev. Father Neufeldt, one of our own boys, when he was ordained.

And bear in mind that the society's membership did not then and it does not now represent half of the adult male membership of the parish. What a remarkable exhibition, therefore, of practical charity!

STREET REPAIR WORK STARTED

Ponckhockie Residents Wonder If Any Work Will Be Done in That Section This Year—Nothing Done In Twelve Years.

The Board of Public Works has started the work of paving the Hasbrouck avenue hill, and the work of laying the granite block will shortly be started. One side of the hill was paved last year. When the work is completed it will put the hill in first class condition.

Another hill that should be repaired is the Wurts street hill which needs the work done. Granite paving block on that hill would not be a bad idea.

Residents in Ponckhockie are wondering if the Board of Public Works contemplates doing any repair work in that section this year. It is said the streets in Ponckhockie have not been repaired in at least twelve years, some say longer. The only work in Ponckhockie was the laying of Willite on North street and that part of Delaware avenue leading to Kingston Point, and the building of a stone wall along the Delaware avenue hill leading into Ponckhockie. The Strand has also been placed in good condition. Aside from that no work has been done. Streets in other sections of the city are repaired about every year.

Uptown a number of trees are being cut down and the wood is being stored by the Board of Public Works at the Delaware avenue Tabernacle.

STREET OILING STARTED MONDAY

The Board of Public Works on Monday started the work of oiling the city streets for the summer. One tank car containing about 10,000 gallons was received that day and Superintendent Van Keuren immediately placed the two street oilers at work. So far Hasbrouck avenue, Prince street, Hoffman street, West O'Reilly street, and Staples street have been oiled.

Superintendent Van Keuren expects to oil the streets as rapidly as the oil is received. Enough has been ordered by the board to care for those streets that will be oiled. With Willite on a number of streets it means that just that less number of streets will have to be oiled.

The fact that the work of street oiling has been started will be welcome news to residents, as all over the city housewives are busy with the annual spring cleaning, and with the laying of the dust on the streets the work of keeping the houses clean will be that much easier.

A COMEDY DRAMA.

Hearts of the Blue Ridge at St. Joseph's Tonight.

The great play, Hearts of the Blue Ridge, was presented by the Amateur Society of the Immaculate Conception Church with notable success at St. Mary's Hall Monday evening.

Through the generous courtesy of the Rev. John H. Briody, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, this play will be produced at St. Joseph's Hall, Wall street, this evening at 8:15 o'clock.

The great audience at St. Mary's Hall gave approval to the play with highest praise and satisfaction, as the play itself is a high class comedy drama and the actors and actresses rendered it perfectly. "Hearts of the Blue Ridge" is the kind of play that people like and enjoy. It is a play well worth seeing. A great audience is anticipated for tonight at St. Joseph's hall, because, as the director of the play, P. F. McDermott says: "Every time the play is presented it is worth more." The music for the play and after the play for dancing will be rendered this evening by Curt Shuter's full orchestra.

A rare treat is in store for the people of Kingston this evening as Bishop Warne of India is to speak at the Clinton Avenue Church. The bishop is a rare personality and has a message which is both interesting and thrilling. The service will begin promptly at 7:45. All are welcome. Dr. Grinton will preside.

COME IF YOU CAN OR CAN'T SING

Community Chorus Committee Invites All To Tonight's Sing Except Those Totally Agin Vocal Music.

The "Sing" cards are back on the cars.

That means that there will be another big "Sing" at the high school tonight. The new cards are white instead of red, which probably reflects the peace of mind and satisfaction that is felt by the Community Chorus Committee over the fine attendance at last week's sing and the prospects for a bigger time yet this evening at 7:30.

Practically every one understands now that these "Sings" are open to all and that no special musical ability is required in order to have a thoroughly good time and join in the splendid manifestation of Kingston's spirit which these sings so well express.

Of course, the person, if there be any such cross-grained individual, who dislikes singing, would find himself out of place. But, if you love singing, come.

Come if you can sing, come if you can't sing, come.

There were guests present from Catskill, Poughkeepsie, New York and this city. After the wedding supper was served the guests parted wishing Mr. and Mrs. Sanipaugh a long and happy married life. Later in the evening the bride and groom left for an extended honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside in this city.

RECEPTION FOR WAWARSING MEN

Who Have Returned From Service—Audience Stirred by "Lucky" Terwilliger's Tales of Experiences.

One of the largest demonstrations ever held in Ellenville was the one given the returned soldiers and sailors of the town of Wawarsing at Norbury Hall Sunday afternoon. It was estimated fully a thousand were in attendance although many were obliged to turn away as there was not sufficient room in the hall for all who wished to attend. Cayton's Band was in attendance, survivors of the Civil War, members of the Woman's Club, who were in main the promoters of this very fine affair. Ellenville and the towns people did itself proud. The honored guests, the soldiers and sailors now home, on furlough or discharged, to the number of about 30 occupied seats on the platform and as they marched to the places of honor the entire audience stood On the platform were the clergy of the village, Judge William D. Cunningham, the chairman of the memorable gathering, B. M Taylor, of the Ellenville Journal, who announced the opening hymn, "The Star Spangled Banner," and with Mrs. John H. Divine at the piano, the entire audience standing as the hymn was sung, making the hall fairly ring. This was followed by prayer by Rev C. A. Dann, of the M E Church Mr Taylor then made a brief but splendid introductory remarks and then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Percy Terwilliger, termed "Lucky," of the famous marines, a survivor of Beilou Wood and other battles, recently returned to his home in this village, and for forty minutes this home lad, a graduate of the high school class of 1917, enlisted in service following graduation. overseas and in the most famous battles and in fighting line on Nov. 10, held the large audience spellbound, and in fine voice and in all earnestness and very impressive told of his actual experiences His heart talk received loud and long applause, all standing as he closed his wonderful experiences. This was followed by all singing heartily "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" Mr. Taylor then introduced Correspondent Karl Ackerman of New York, who served four years abroad as correspondent, who was present at the meeting, who gladly responded and gave a brief but exceedingly interesting talk along some lines of his work

Judge Cunningham who needs no introduction to the town of Wawarsing friends, arose to address his soldier and sailor friends seated upon the platform beside him and to the large audience of neighbors and friends before him His remarks were prefaced by high tribute paid his young friend who upon his personal solicitation had been induced to narrate his wonderful war experiences at this meeting and while telling them had failed to uncover the wonderful decoration for which he was cited that had a place inside his coat Mr Cunningham delivered a very able address right from his heart, and was listened to with marked attention and received with very hearty applause This public memorial service will not be forgotten in the years to come and other demonstrations of a similar kind are to be held as other of the town's boys return home. At the conclusion of Mr Cunningham's able address, in which he spoke in high terms of some fitting memorial for the soldiers and sailors of the town Mrs. O. B Sarre of Yama Farms Inn, Napanoch, made a motion which was seconded and carried, that a committee be appointed to look into the matter and make arrangements for the same.

The band played "America" and the audience arose and joined heartily in singing this closing number.

Otto store on the night of the alleged stabbing the three negroes were there. He noticed as they went out they walked perfectly straight and were not drunk. He did not remember any of them and could not identify Byrd.

Policeman Charles Murphy testified that he was on duty that night and met three negroes coming up that avenue toward Broadway about 8 o'clock. He stated that not one of the negroes were drunk in his opinion Byrd and Bailey passed him and Cunningham stopped to ask him the way to the West Shore station which he gave.

Miss Angelow Colburn, daughter of A. E. Colburn who conducts a store on Broadway next to the Kingston City Hospital testified that Byrd was not in her store on that night at all. She was tending the store all alone when Cunningham entered alone and bought some bread and salmon. Later Bailey came in. They were there between 7 and 8 o'clock. On request of Cunningham she entered the back room and sliced the bread for him and opened the can of salmon. No one entered the store while she was in the back room. Cunningham and Bailey testified yesterday that they were all in the store at different times. Bailey appeared to have been drinking but neither one of the men were drunk she stated.

R. Ward Harvey of 85 Clinton avenue, and a master mechanic for the city of New York, was coming down Andrew street from the Benedictine Sanitarium on the night of the stabbing and as he approached Broadway at the Knights of Columbus building he saw an officer and two negroes holding a discussion on the curb in front of the down town drive entrance to the city hall He wanted to avoid any trouble so crossed Broadway diagonally in front of them and entered the sidewalk in front of the cannons on the lawn in front of the city Hall. He heard the officer threaten arrest and heard one of the negroes make a muttering reply He stated that the officer accused one of the negroes of using indecent language to ladies on the street and further stated that he saw and passed ladies on Broadway at that time. The officer then arrested one of the men and started up the drive toward headquarters with him. He went on his way uptown and as he reached the uptown drive entrance to the hall he heard shouts and a shot fired He immediately turned around and saw another shot fired and saw the negro jump off of the wall, falling upon the sidewalk, but immediately getting up and running at a fast pace up Broadway. As he was in the path of the shooting, the witness said he got behind a telephone pole and one more shot was fired. He heard more shouts and went up to the lawn and found officer Lawrence lying on the ground about 20 feet from the wall directly back of the street toward the building, and he ran to the window of police headquarters and summoned help. The witness and officers from the hall carried Lawrence to the rear entrance of the hospital. It was about ten minutes from the time he saw Byrd running up Broadway that he saw him being led to a cell in the city hall. There was a crowd in the hall and he saw Byrd and he did not appear to be drunk.

The defense will cross-examine Mr. Harvey when court convenes at 2 o'clock this afternoon. An adjournment was taken at 12:30 this noon.

BROOM BRIGADE MOBILIZED TODAY

How would you divide 300 brooms among 500 women and give them two brooms each? Solomon's problem was child's play compared with the dilemma in which those who dispense brooms to a housecleaning proletariat at the Rose-Gorman-Rose store found themselves this afternoon. The sale, at 39 cents per broom, two brooms allowed to a purchaser, was advertised to start at 2:30 o'clock and long before that time several hundred women and a few male broom-pushers were lined up as at a world's series ball game. As the hour for the "start" drew near there was the same tensity that prevails when the final heat in the big race at the county fair is called, and when trusty wrist watches ticked off the zero hour, the great crowd of ladies went forward in mass formation, with grand disregard of danger from or to feminine apparel, hatpins, tool bags, etc. The brooms were sold as hastily as the clerks could make change, needless to say, if only Victory Notes sold at such a bargain!

Monday morning in Newburgh Samuel Kries of that city was struck by a car driven by the Rev. G. H. Sutton of the Marlborough Presbyterian Church. He was caught on the fender of the car and thrown against the radiator, the machine carrying him a few feet. He was injured about the arm and leg.

133 CASES FOR SUPREME COURT

There are 133 cases on the civil calendar of the supreme court to convene at the court house in this city on Monday, May 5th, at 2 p. m., Justice Howard presiding. Seven of the cases are preferred. A grand jury will be in attendance but indications at present are there will be nothing to come up before them. Should the Byrd murder trial drag with an indication that it cannot be finished by running on regular day hours this week, county court may hold session in the evening in order to get out of the way for supreme court next week.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman

New York, April 29.—There was no change in market conditions at the opening of the stock market today, many stocks being urgently demanded and prices in some issues moved up at times with a degree of violence Atlantic Gulf was an instance of this trading, opening up 1½ to 139¼, and then rushing up to 143 on the execution of large buying orders apparently coming from banking interests. Marine rose ½ to 39 and the preferred ⅝ to 119⅞. There was excited trading at times in the oil stocks with Sinclair attracting most attention, advancing 1½ to 61. Royal Dutch reacted 1½ to 111. The sugar stocks became prominent, Cuba Cane advancing 2 points to 32¾ and American Sugar advanced one point to 130. American Hide and Leather preferred, with an advance to 116⅛, was established at a new high record Steel Common sold at 100¾ to 100⅜ during the first 15 minutes.

The shipping issues were the most prominent features of the trading during the forenoon. Marine sold up over 2 points to 41 and the preferred rose one point to 120⅜. The sugar stocks also continued in demand, American Sugar touching 131⅜ and American Beet Sugar 87¼ U. S Steel, after being under pressure and dropping to 100⅜ moved up to 101¼. Mexican Petroleum was again in supply and yielded to 174.

The market closed irregular, government bonds unchanged, railway and other bonds steady.

KINGSTON'S QUALITY STORE

UNITED STATES GOT BARGAIN

Purchase of Florida From Spain for $6,000,000 Was Decidedly Good Stroke of Business.

More than $6,000,000 was paid by the United States to Spain one hundred years ago for Florida.

In 1819, on the anniversary of the birth of the nation's first president, there was concluded between John Quincy Adams, then secretary of state, and Luis De Onis, minister plenipotentiary of the king of Spain, an agreement and treaty whereby the United States became owner of what were then known as the provinces of East and West Florida.

This territory included not only all of the present state of Florida, but part of what is now Georgia and Alabama, and it was bought for $5,000,000 and the settlement of some claims which amounted to $1,024,241.34, a total of $6,024,241.34.

The language of the remarkable document between the two nations is clear and precise and differs from other treaties to a marked extent. The two men who drew it up were past masters in statesmanship, politics and diplomacy; also each was the most advanced thinker of the country he represented.

Spain wanted to get rid of her American possessions before they were taken away from her. She was proud, but recognized the fact that she was in no position to wage a long and possibly unsuccessful warfare to hold her colonies.

America wanted the land in this continent held by Spain, but was willing to acquire it by purchase rather than conquest, and with both sides ably represented by the best talent, it was not long before a satisfactory conclusion was reached.

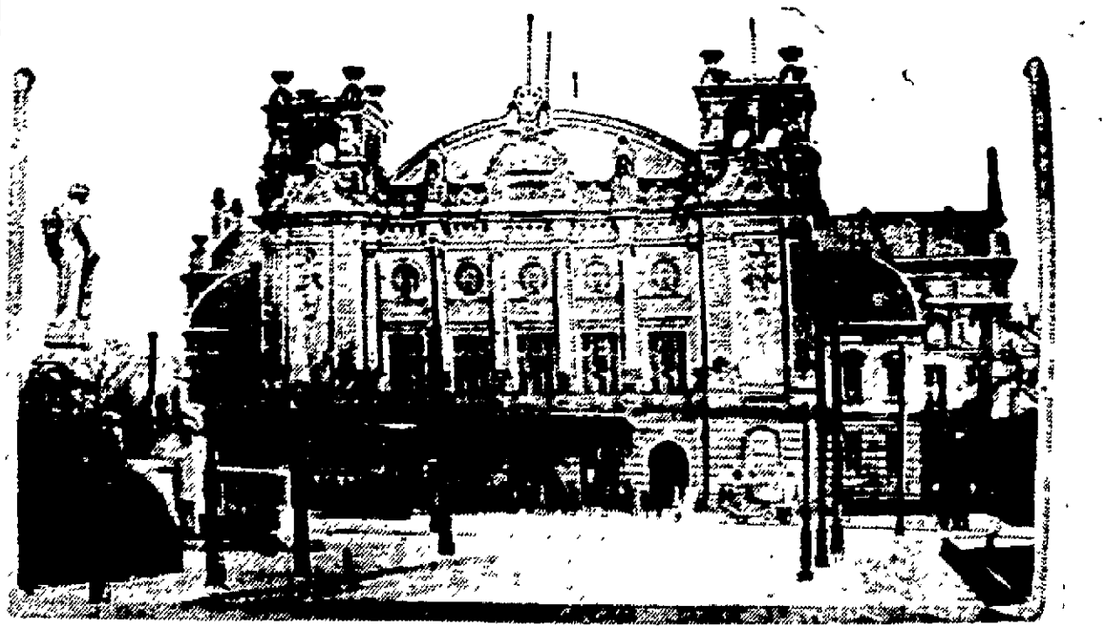

Should Have Known Him.

Robert has an uncle who takes great delight in teasing and asking questions of his little nephew every time he goes in whatever else day he asked him if he knew who George Washington was. "Why mamma," exclaimed Robert, "don't you know who George Washington is? Why, he's the man that invented Americans."

Spread of the Orange.

The orange invaded Europe from Africa about 1500. It was not known in England till the eleventh century, and was first planted in Australia in 1788.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 29, 1919.

It is estimated that it would take England 400 years at $5 a second to pay off its war indebtedness. How many centuries it would take Germany at $5 a second to pay off its war indebtedness plus the great indemnity to be required is not stated, but the estimate ought to be staggering enough to dampen the enthusiasm of even those Prussians who contended that war is "beautiful" and desirable as well as necessary.

"Build now; own your own home for your children's sake," reads a poster issued by the United States Department of Labor. In view of the rent situation in the big cities, together with the frequent refusal to accept tenants with children, such official advice will be widely pondered. But many home seekers, after counting their savings, are likely to be inclined to await a decrease in the price of labor and the cost of building materials.

In connection with the Salvation Army's rather unexpected campaign to raise $12,000,000 Cardinal Gibbons writes that "the man in need of help is the object of their effort, with never a question of his creed or color." Or his former business, it might have been added. From all accounts the Salvation Army does not stop at carrying doughnuts to doughboys on the very firing line; it wants to help every human creature, even trying to find jobs for former bar-tenders and brewery workers.

THREE ATTITUDES.

A German looks "down" on a woman as an inferior, an American looks "up" to a woman as a superior, while a Frenchman looks "at" a woman as an equal, according to Mlle. Marguerite Clement, a distinguished French college woman now lecturing in this country. Of course she thinks the French attitude is the proper one and that the American is the opposite extreme from the German. She contends that American women of the prosperous classes are too much sheltered and coddled for their own good, and that she would be better off, especially in these times, if she were given a larger share of the responsibilities carried by the men of her family. There may be something in this view. Given more "culture" than her brother, yet given nothing to do that is worth while, the young American woman of the prosperous class too often tends either toward neurasthenia or toward empty fads in her search for a vent for her unemployed energies.

MORE REFORM SPELLING.

The Simplified Spelling Board, after resting up during the war period, has returned to the attack with increased determination. It boasts that the twelve clipped and shorn words it recommended 13 years ago have made great progress, no less than 500 publications, 15 State universities and 150 other educational institutions having adopted the revised spelling in these twelve cases, with the result that now practically nobody is shocked at "thru," "catalog," etc. Full of enthusiasm in the cause the board now dares greatly, asking the public to adopt many new spellings, including:

Ruf, tuf, laf, cof, boro, furse, gazel, bred, ded, hed, plesur, prolog, sinagog, ex, hel, wel, mil, stuf, dres, les, pur, bil, fil, wil, sha, giv, hav, liv, wisht, cald, carrid, askt, fixt, brekfest, advanst, etc., etc.

Full of admiration for its own clipping and shearing, the board asks confidently, "Why not?" The answer is easy. These skeletonized words do not recommend themselves because, like all skeletons, they are unsightly, and because what little is gained in space is far more than offset by the hideousness and resulting confusion. To say nothing of the ultimate dimming and wiping out of the philologist's trails back to the original roots.

HOW TO KEEP YOUNG.

Though he was 85 on April 23, ex-Senator Chauncey M. Depew is reported to be still genial as well as still youthful. "How does he do it?" the man who feels himself grow old at sixty may well ask. He certainly took no dip in Ponce de Leon's fountain, for that fabled well of eternal youth has never been found. Yet his discovery of some part of the secret is manifest. His own simple formula given several years ago reads as follows:

Keep in touch with the young. Join in their games, be a feature in the dance, romp the fastest and turn the quickest in the Virginia reel or the country dance, go up to the old college and light your pipe and sing college songs, take your children to the theatre and howl with them at the roaring farce and laugh with them at the comedy and cry with them at the tragedy; be their confidant in their love affairs, and, if they are not equal to it, write their love letters and never stop writing some for yourself. Thus will the twentieth century welcome as older fellows as the youngest and most vigorous of those who are to solve its problems and make its records.

If Mr. Depew keeps it up, he may see the day when he will have to cut out one item from this pleasant program at the command of the triumphant anti-tobacco reformers. Yet we may rest assured that so cheerful a philosopher will be able to survive even the loss of his friendly pipe.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, April 29.—Captain Le Corbeiller, a staff officer of Marshal Foch, who is on a mission to study the conditions of electrical traction in the United States, was a Saugerties visitor on Sunday. He was in full uniform wearing the Croix de Guerre gained during the war. He visited Lieut. Henry J. Schroeder of Barclay Heights who also wore this honor.

Every Point is Considered

When you ask our advice or help in furnishing—a dining room, for example—we like to know in return something about the character of the room. Is it sunny or sombre, how is it decorated, and what are the furnishings of the connecting room.

Then we are able to suggest intelligently furnishings that will produce a sense of exquisite perfection, in which furniture, hangings and dainty window draperies each play an indispensable part in the harmonious whole. It's a service that considers every point—

CAPTAINS FOR CLEAN UP WEEK

For Each Ward Soon to be Announced—Fire Prevention Day Features Being Worked Out.

Preparations for Kingston's Clean Up Week, which begins Monday, May 5, are being completed.

The fire prevention committee of the Chamber of Commerce, C. V. A. Decker, chairman, is arranging to combine Fire Prevention Day, Friday, May 9, with Clean Up Week, May 5 to 10. The combination is most logical for clean up is just as important in reducing the number of fires as it is in promoting health and improving the appearance of the city.

The committee is securing a captain for each of the 13 wards. This captain, with workers whom he chooses, will have charge of clean up in his ward.

Most of the captains have already been secured, and the complete list will be announced shortly. Considerable ward rivalry is already springing up.

Special features for fire prevention day are being worked out. It may not be possible to crowd them all into one day and the committee is considering fixing Thursday, May 8, in addition to Friday, May 9, for special fire prevention work.

The fire prevention committee is working in co-operation with Mayor Canfield, the city board of health, board of fire commissioners and fire department.

Be-on-hand for Clean Up and Fire Prevention.

TWO TO ADDRESS COUNTY WOMEN

Prof. Burritt and Mrs. Brigden Will Speak at Home Economics Meeting May 3—An Open Forum.

The best and biggest county-wide meeting of women of Ulster county is promised for Saturday, May 3rd, in Wiltwyck Inn Hall, Kingston. The meeting will open promptly at 11 o'clock in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Home Economics Association has been very fortunate in securing both Professor M. C. Burritt, Vice-Director of all Extension Work in New York state and Mrs. Brigden, President of the Home Economics Association of Cortland county, as speakers at this meeting. Mr. Burritt comes to present a broader point of view of our Home Economics work than we can possibly obtain in any other way. Anyone who has heard Mr. Burritt speak will be especially glad to know he is coming to Ulster county. Be sure you are among those to come to the meeting at Kingston, May 3rd and hear him.

We are always interested in what other counties are doing. Mrs. Brigden a very enthusiastic President of the Home Economics Association of Cortland county, comes to tell her version of the Home Economics work. Several from this county have heard Mrs. Brigden speak at Cornell University and are anxious to hear her again.

What will be very good news to us all is that Mrs. A. E. P. Searing of Kingston, the first Chairman of the Home Economics work in Ulster county, will also be among the speakers on May 3rd. We owe it to Mrs. Searing that Ulster county has a Home Economics Association. It was through her efforts that the work in Home Economics was first begun in Ulster county.

Besides all of these interesting points there will be an open forum at this time. The Home Economics committee women from all over the county will tell of the work that has been carried on in their communities and the success they have had with their membership campaign. Come to hear what others are doing.

Arrangements have been made for a special dinner to be served at Wiltwyck Inn to those attending this meeting. The cost per plate will be sixty cents. If you wish to remain at Wiltwyck Inn for lunch that noon will you kindly send word to the Home Economics Office, 74 John street, Kingston, in care of Miss L. M. Stuart, before Wednesday, April 30th.

GRANITE.

Granite, April 28.—Miss Della Slater left Monday for Stockbridge, Mass., where she has a fine position for the summer season.

Clyde Sheldon of Walden pleasantly spent his Easter vacation at his home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Sheldon.

Mrs. Josephine Rose and granddaughter, Nellie, visited friends in Ellenville the past week.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church will hold their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Adelbert Sheldon, on Saturday afternoon, May 3.

Miss Frances Terwilliger of Poughkeepsie is spending her Easter vacation at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Peter Addis.

Douglas Shafer of Schenectady called on friends in this place the past week.

Meade Countryman, after visiting friends in Walden for two weeks, has returned to his home here. He is in poor health at present.

Mrs. Albina Simpson is very ill at this writing.

On Wednesday, April 16, Mrs. Elizabeth Van Etten gave a birthday party in honor of her granddaughter, Elizabeth Becker, of Kingston, she reaching the age of 13 years. Invitations were given her schoolmates and friends. At 2 o'clock they assembled at her home. Games were played by those who were present until they were summoned to the dining room to partake of the good things provided for the occasion. The table was decorated with beautiful flowers and a large birthday cake graced the table having 13 candles in a circle, which delighted the young folks. The afternoon was pleasantly spent and after a grand old time the little ones all departed for their homes just as the sun was sinking low in the west. All voted Miss Elizabeth a royal entertainer and wished her many returns of the day.

These Durable Soles Cut Shoe Bills Down

"For use around cement plants and similar places where rough materials grind down soles quickly, I recommend Neolin Soles. They resist wear surprisingly. After working around the clinker department long enough to wear out two pairs of ordinary soles, my Neolin Soles are still as good as new," writes A. F Miller, superintendent of The Peninsular Portland Cement Company plant in Jackson, Michigan.

It is remarkable how tough and durable Neolin Soles are. They are made so by Science—comfortable and waterproof, too. They come on new shoes in many styles for men, women, and children, and are available everywhere for re-soling. Wear them, and cut your shoe bills down.

Neolin Soles are made by The Goodyear Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels, guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

The Stroller Hears Discussion Regarding Fish and Game in Ulster County—One Association Every Sportsman Should be a Member Of.

"I see where the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association are giving an illustrated lecture on the fish and game of the state Friday evening in the high school," remarked the customer as he dropped the newspaper he was reading.

"Yep," replied the barber, "and that is one night I close early for I want to hear this Secretary Abbott speak, for if there is anything I am interested in it is the fish and game of the county."

"So am I," agreed the customer "Do you belong to the association?" asked the barber

"No, but I expect to," replied the customer "what are the fees?"

"Just $2 a year the way I understand it," said the barber, "and in addition to that you receive free the National Sporting Magazine, which Alderman Preston says is worth the price alone"

"There is no question we need such an association in the county," said the customer

"You said something" replied the barber, "for it is through the efforts of the association that Ulster's streams are kept stocked with fish, and if there were no fish to catch I don't know how I would spend the few idle days I have to myself"

"And taking about fishing," continued the barber, "did I ever tell you of the big trout I caught up in the mountains last week?"

"No, shoot it along," replied the customer

"I have wanted to go trout fishing ever since the season opened," continued the barber, "and last week I managed to take a day off and set out The trout did not seem to be biting, or else I had the wrong kind of bait and finally becoming disgusted I gave up and securing a row boat tried drop line fishing for whatever would bite."

"Luck was against me however, and I was about ready to call it a day, when suddenly something slapped me on the back Startled I looked around and there in the bottom of the boat lay a trout that weighed fully ten pounds"

"He probably took you for a fly," suggested the customer with a grin

After the preliminaries, and a special anthem by the choir Professor Mead Davis, principal of Port Ewen school, and one of the centenary minute men, gave a patriotic address, showing how it was the mission of the people of this country to be true Americans, and to teach and stand for patriotism and to thwart Bolshevism in this country, showing how it was in this country and that it was a menace This address was profitable and much enjoyed by all as are all of Mr Davis's addresses The pastor then preached a sermon on some of the general questions asked concerning Jesus. A special program was given Sunday evening both in music and in speaking The musical part of the program consisted of a beautiful offertory played by the organist and violinist put to otic hymns, and an anthem by the choir which had been selected for the occasion, and Miss Ella Lapine favored the audience with a special solo and then Lieutenant H. E. Giles delighted the large audience, which nearly filled the church, with the story and description of his journey from the time he left Kingston with Co M until he received his honorable discharge March 31st, just in time to be in Kingston for the parade. Mr. Giles gave a vivid description of camp life and his travel overseas, of the experiences of being on guard at the listening post, of going over the top, of trench life and of being wounded. BAILEY DENIES PASSING KNIFE

Negro Companion of Byrd, on Trial For Murder, Says Was Ignorant of Stabbing For Two Days—Chester Cameron Sentenced In County Court to Elmira.

After county court had reconvened at 2:35 o'clock Monday afternoon, District Attorney Traver moved judgment in the case of the People against Chester Cameron, indicted for burglary. Said he was 18 years of age and a dealer. Never been convicted before and his religious convictions Methodist. He was sentenced to the Elmira Reformatory until discharged under the regulations of such institution.

Henry D. Darrow in the Byrd murder trial recalled and indentified photograph and other exhibits in case, such as wall in front of city hall and sheds, pile of poles near Kingston Gas & Electric Company on East O'Reilly street.

William H. Cunningham, colored, called. He testified he resided in New York city, was now working at Shandaken on tunnel work running a drill. Knew Byrd, defendant, about 20 months. Knew James Bailey. Came to Kingston with them and had been here before. Arrived on West Shore train on February 6th and asked what time they could get a train to Grand Gorge and was told not until next morning. Checked baggage and went to Kingston Point on car on subway. Got off near Roberts's saloon at North street. Had couple of drinks and asked Roberts where they could stop over night. Think he said at Ann street. Stayed at Roberts for hour and over shooting pool. Took car at corner little after 7 o'clock near as he could remember. Asked conductor where to let them off at colored settlement. He told them to get off at Hasratty street. Conductor told them to inquire at some of saloons and he would be told where to find place to room. Did not find any.

They traveled to Broadway and stopped at little grocery and got something to eat. Bought some candy. Went up street and saw a policeman and I think asked policeman how to reach West Shore depot. I crossed the street and went on the other side of the street, leaving them, and later crossed over and went into a little store and got a small can of salmon and some bread from a little girl. Walked out of store and continued up Broadway. Saw Bailey and went to the station and bought two tickets, one for himself and one for Bailey, who said he had no money. Went into the station and ate the salmon. While talking with some one chief arrested him and Bailey and we went back to the city hall. Saw Byrd there. Was brought to jail and released next morning. Knew where South street was and worked on Brooklyn subway. Day before coming to Kingston he and Byrd were in South street and Byrd bought a souvenir Statue of Liberty for my wife, and a knife. Described the knife, bone handle, keen blade, sharp point. Had seen the knife at his home, used to borrow it to sharpen lead pencil. Borrowed it from him near Newburgh on train coming up. Identified the knife by marks on back. Described hat and clothing of Byrd and identified hat. Was bought at New Kensington, Pa. (Knife and hat marked for identification.)

To Mr. Grogan witness told how the three had worked together near New Kensington, Pa. Had been in New York about 15 days before coming to Kingston. The three had worked in Brooklyn for seven days on subway. He is a drill runner. Bailey helping him. Byrd helped another drill runner. Went to Brooklyn on Tuesday, drew some money and I and Byrd drew balance money due on Wednesday at Battery Place and we came to Kingston on Thursday. Told about how he, Byrd and one Henry Coleman went into a saloon, had a drink and Byrd going out and buying the knife. Was closely questioned about lead pencil sharpening, and taking down addresses. Told about going uptown on L road, getting off at 135th street terminal. Byrd and he separated near Lenox avenue. His wife told him Byrd had been there before he arrived.

Mr. Grogan, for the defense, had Cunningham tell about his going about from one place to another on the Tuesday and Wednesday nights, of his going home and out again and not seeing Byrd until Thursday evening. Asked about seeing the knife at his home and sharpening lead pencil when he had not seen Byrd. Cunningham said it was Tuesday and not Wednesday. He was then led over his doings Tuesday and Wednesday by Mr. Grogan and said it was in the day time. He was emphatic in his testimony that he had seen the knife in the South side saloon, stating that Byrd said he had bought it, also at his home, on the train and in the grand jury room. Admitted he had and put five marks on it in the grand jury room by direction of the district attorney as a mark for identification. Said he identified the knife because he had seen it before. The two all drank whiskey in New York on Wednesday and on Thursday before starting for Kingston. Bought what was left of a quart of whiskey and a quart of wine on the train, which was passed around among the three on the train. The witness then testified to the doings of himself and Bailey and Byrd after arriving in Kingston to the time of their arrest similar to his story told on questioning by the district attorney.

James Bailey, friend and companion of Byrd on the night of the stabbing was sworn next and said that he was born in Alabama and came north in 1912. He arrived in Kingston with Byrd and Cunningham on the day of the killing of Policeman Lawrence and all were on their way to Grand Gorge in search of work. He was with Byrd at the Cunningham home on West 142nd street, New York city, on the night prior to their trip to Kingston. On the morning they left to come to this city enroute for Grand Gorge they went first from New York to Brooklyn to the place they had been working to get their working clothes and these they placed in two suit cases, he (Bailey) carrying one, and one of his companions carrying the other. He could not remember where they stopped in New York but he remembers that they took a ferry and crossed to Weehawken where they spent one hour in waiting for a train to Kingston. He claims that they left Weehawken on the 2:40 train and arrived in this city around five o'clock. In New York some member of the party bought a bottle of wine and a bottle of whiskey. The witness stated that he drank from both the wine and whiskey while in the station at Weehawken but did not see either bottle after leaving there although the bottles were not empty at that time. Who drank the remaining contents he could not say as he slept all of the way up on the train. When he gave the whiskey bottle to Byrd it was about three quarters full. When they arrived in Kingston about 5 o'clock according to the witness the first thing that they did was to check their baggage after learning that no train left for Grand Gorge until the morning of the next day.

They entered the subway at the West Shore and boarded a car which took them downtown to Roberts's saloon by Kingston Point and started to shoot pool but did not drink first as Cunningham had said. The witness stated that Cunningham asked the man there where they could find a room but he didn't hear what the man told him. Bailey claims he only played one game of pool but Byrd and Cunningham continued to play. He only remembers having one drink at Robert's but Cunningham testified that they had each had four drinks while there. He did not know what time it was when they left there but they got on a car and got off somewhere downtown to search for a room to stay overnight. They found no place and proceeded to Broadway, coming up Delaware avenue and stopping in a store to buy something to eat. This was not the store or time that Cunningham bought his bread and sardines but prior to that time. As they approached Broadway they saw a policeman standing on the corner and Cunningham inquired of him for a place to stay but the witness did not know the answer the officer gave him regarding lodging for the night. In contradiction to Cunningham's testimony Bailey claims that they all three walked up Broadway together as far as the store and then Cunningham left them to enter the store and buy something to eat himself. According to the witness Byrd followed Cunningham in the store but came out alone before Cunningham and as he approached him Byrd appeared in an angry mood and advanced toward him with his hands in his pockets cursing and swearing fluently on the street. Bailey stated that Byrd was evidently sore over something and when he asked him what the trouble was he got mean.

It was at this time that Officer Lawrence appeared and threatened Byrd with arrest if he did not keep still and in reply, according to the witness, Byrd told Lawrence that "he did not give a g— d— for him and he was not talking to him." Lawrence then took Byrd by the collar and placed him under arrest for using profane language on the streets. This was all that the witness said he heard. He saw the officer start down the street with Byrd and then went in the opposite direction toward the store to find Cunningham but before he entered the store to meet Cunningham he glanced back and saw that Byrd and the policeman had turned off of the street, and he stated that he found out later that they had turned in at the city hall. He said that Byrd was trying to break loose from the officer but that he did not follow them and did not catch up with them and demand that the officer release Byrd. He also testified that he never handed Byrd any knife on that night. When he met Cunningham in the store he took some of the bread and sardines that Cunningham had bought and they ate it together and went direct to the West Shore station. On the way to the station he told Cunningham several times that Byrd had been arrested and Cunningham replied that he was through fooling with Byrd. As he entered the store after leaving Byrd and the officer he heard two shots fired but did not investigate them or know where they came from. When he and Cunningham arrived at the station Cunningham bought two tickets for Grand Gorge as he was broke and they sat down with the intentions of sleeping, but two officers arrested them. Bailey testified that they were not drunk, although they had been drinking heavily all day. When Byrd was talking to him prior to his arrest he was loud and noisy but not drunk.

Mr. Grogan examining for the defense then questioned Bailey and found out that Bailey had only been with Byrd and Cunningham for a short time meeting them while working at the same place in Pennsylvania. Mr. Grogan then brought out the fact that they did not know on just what train they did arrive on and Bailey upon cross-examination stated that he had told Cunningham why Byrd had been arrested. He also stated that Cunningham did not eat in the station as he claimed he did. He stated that he was asleep all of the way up on the train from New York to Kingston and when questioned as to whether he had had a fight or quarrel with Byrd stated that he had had a falling out with him coming up on the train. He stated that he was a stranger in this city and knew nothing about the place but that Cunningham did and was leading them around. He testified that they broke the bread which they ate and did not cut it with any knife on that night. He emphatically denied having stabbed Byrd and the officer and demanding Byrd's release from custody. The court sustained the objection of the district attorney when the defense requested to show statements and documents that preferred and stated the charges upon which Bailey was held and later released by the grand jury. He stated on the stand that he did not know what took place between the officer and Byrd and did not know that Lawrence had been stabbed until the following Saturday, although arraigned on Friday with Byrd for the alleged crime. While he was confined in jail the witness stated that he had talked with Chief Wood about his pedigree but that nothing pertaining to this case had been discussed. He did not remember the chief talking to him about the charge held against him or about his implication in the Byrd case.

At 5:40 o'clock Judge Fowler took an adjournment until 10 o'clock this morning when Bailey will again take the stand for examination by the people.

THAT TOURING CAR

Taxpayers' Ass'n Still Believes Was Poor Investment.

Kingston, N. Y., April 24, 1919.
Editor Freeman:

In reply to President Waterbury's article in The Freeman, the Taxpayers' Association might say for the benefit of the public that they are of the opinion that if the alms commissioners had purchased a Ford truck for about $600 instead of a five passenger six cylinder touring car, that there would have been saved to the city the sum of about $500. They also believe from Mr. Waterbury's article that "on two days each week the superintendent distributes the rations to those who are needy and entitled to help," that therefore a truck would have been the more appropriate for the delivery of rations than a touring car, and do not recall many business houses in this city which use a touring car for delivery purposes.

The article of the association was not intended as an attack on Superintendent Edmonston, as we have only words of commendation for him, but still believe that as a business proposition, the purchase of a Ford truck would have filled the bill fully and would have been the more appropriate purchase and would therefore, had it been purchased, meant a saving to the city of about $500 as we believe, and also been a saving in the upkeep, as we are told the upkeep of a Ford truck would be much cheaper than the upkeep of the present touring car.

Respectfully yours,

Maxwell
—a car built 1/1000 of an inch fine

THE word "fine" has many meanings. Applied to a car it may mean the car looks fine, or it may mean the car is built fine.

The public usually makes up its mind about the former, and hears little about the latter.

Maxwell is a car built to very fine limits. When you begin to separate an inch into one-one thousandth part you will readily realize the pains taken to make the Maxwell right.

It means that each one of the working parts of the Maxwell are made accurate to that exceedingly fine point.

There's a good reason for this. In a great production like the Maxwell there would be a tremendous waste of time and materials unless there was such painstaking accuracy.

It would mean a car $200 more in price.

That is why Maxwell parts are "ground to size"—the most expensive operation in modern machine shop practice—not hand-fitted as they are in cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

And, by the way, that is why some cars cost hundreds of dollars more.

So that is one of many reasons why there is a 300,000 run on this single Maxwell chassis model. 300,000 built all on the original chassis program. 300,000 that are giving an extraordinary record of themselves.

Each new Maxwell is better than the last. Each new Maxwell is finer than the one that went before.

It is built fine. That is our idea of a fine car.

Great Painter's Sad Fate.

Titian, the Italian painter, died at the age of ninety nine a victim to a malignant pestilence which was raging in Italy. He worked up to the last and it is said that his eye and hand were still his obedient servants. When he was aged ninety-six we read of Titian still receiving royal visitors and superintending the labors of his pupils. He was at work on his last picture, "The Christ of Pity" when he was struck by the plague. This work was finished by another. There is no record that Titian lived by any rules of health; he just happened to be blessed with a strong constitution, that was all.

Riches in Pine Waste.

The industrial value of a full-grown pine tree is no less than five times what we get from it. If, of all the yellow pine cut, the entire trees were used, not only as theoretical science, there would be added to the estate of the American people every day 40,000 tons of paper, 3,000 tons of rosin 300,000 gallons of turpentine and 600,000 gallons of ethyl or grain alcohol, together with the fuel for these industries and the lumber we get as it is. Of course this would require a heavy expenditure of capital and a large amount of labor, but the facts remain.

ST. PETER'S AID GOLDEN JUBILEE

And this is not all. For years it was the custom of this society to hold balls, fairs, excursions, picnics, and after working to from four to six weeks, turn over the entire proceeds to the church. The records indicate that after holding a picnic in O'Reilly's woods the affair realized $2,200, and this was all turned over to the church. But why add anything further in this regard. These few examples will serve to illustrate the noble work of the organization.

And now about some of the organizers of the society. Fortunate it was that we had such men as the following to put the society on a firm basis:

Michael Klein, who was the first presiding officer; Father John Raffeisen, spiritual adviser; Herman Blaumansatt, Nicholas Bruck, Joseph Felleisen, Michael Reis, Jacob Derrenbacher, John Peter Derrenbacher, Valentine Motrie, John Huber, Michael Flick, Frank Weber, Michael Dippold, John Dafeldecker, Simon Heitzman, John Schneider and many others; totaling 103 in 1871. These men must have possessed no mean ability as financiers, for one year after organization there was in the treasury $950, and eight years later the treasury showed a balance of $4,147, exclusive of the $2,000 that had been given to the church, and all this was possible of accomplishment while the regular needs of the members were being taken care of.

The list of past presidents follows:

Jacob Derrenbacher, John Dafeldecker, John Derrenbacher, William Gerlach, John L. Schatzel, John Motrie, Nicholas Neufeldt, John Peter Reis, Michael A. Reis, John Reis, Peter Bruck and C. J. Heitzman.

All have passed away to their reward with the exception of John Peter Reis, Michael A. Reis, Peter Bruck and of course myself.

What I would like to emphasize about this society in all the years of its existence from 1869 down to the present time is this: It has stood loyal and steadfast to the objects and purposes for which it was organized and Almighty God God has blessed its work. And in the crisis through which our beloved country has but recently passed our members have stood loyally by and seconded the efforts of our president not only with their money but with their personal service, working in the various campaigns launched in our city; and here is what patriotism and love of country has prompted our members to do then:

Up to November last we had subscribed $37,850 for Liberty Bonds; $21,150 to War Savings Stamps; $95.84 to Thrift Stamps, and $12.00 to the War Chest. Besides this the society contributes regularly to the Staats-Verband, a Catholic state organization with which it is affiliated, and through it to the Central Verein, both organizations doing a noble work in combating socialism, assisting Catholic chaplains in their work in the service, and countless other good works.

In conclusion I can but express the hope and prayer that Almighty God will continue to send down His choicest blessings on the society's future endeavors; that He may continue to guide its officers and members in their deliberations; and that He may continue to send us new material, that thereby our work so nobly begun 50 years ago may continue to live on, and on and on in this parish to the end of time.

Following the addresses, dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

The celebration was a noteworthy one and will long be remembered by those present.

The Glad Kind.

Said the facetious feller: "Some men are the funniest chaps. They have good health and their nerves are all right, but when they meet a friend their hand shakes."

Opportunity.

"The knell of lost opportunity is never tolled in this life," is some one's reassuring word to all who have let more than one opportunity slip by. It is never too late to profit by one's mistakes, and press on once more to success. For Opportunity is not a solitary genius who comes once, then vanishes. He belongs to a large family of man's well-wishers. If we fail to cleave to the elder brothers we can welcome the younger brothers of the clan. Occasionally one finds also that phenomenon of human families—a younger brother, taller, braver, and even more glorious in strength and valor than his fellows. Such later-coming Opportunity may reveal himself to any one of us. Only let us keep our courage keen, keep our eyes clear-seeing, and our faith serene; and when any member of the family of Opportunity appears claim him and cleave to him with all our powers.—Montreal Herald.
